

I oppose petition RM-10870 by the National Conference of Volunteer Examiner Coordinators (NCVEC) requesting the FCC to eliminate the Morse code testing requirement for amateur radio. I explained in my comments on other competing proposals why I feel that Morse code competency is important in amateur radio. Petition RM-10870 is by far the worst of the several petitions currently before the FCC regarding changes in the amateur radio licensing requirements.